ABOUT

Tasneem Valley has fused modes of intimate storytelling with a commitment to combat normative stereotypes.

Her dedication to seek out our common humanity, beyond our social expectations, makes for provocative and compelling blogging.

She has toured internationally, sharing her positivity as she distributes tools her audiences can use to break down barriers and change their lives.

Speaking to audiences about her many ventures, those professional and personal, social and common,

Tasneem adds: "I see fashion as art. The individual is the canvas, while the garments become the artwork. I see myself as the artist, putting it all together effortlessly and creatively
